Preface

The National Archives of Nepal is the official custodian of the archival documents in the country. In its possession, the National Archives has a large number of manuscripts written in several languages and scripts and covering wide range of subject matters dating from the 8th century through the 20th century. The manuscript collection of the National Archives contains some of the oldest and most unique Nepalese manuscripts. The National Archives also houses a vast and varied collection of about 8000 rare Tibetan manuscripts and block-print documents dating from the 11th and 12th centuries through the 20th century. Due to its scripts, languages, subject matters and the materials used, the Tibetan manuscript is considered very important. The Tibetan script and language are still in practice in the Northern Region of Nepal. The manuscripts stand as a symbol of glory of the Tibetan culture and civilization and it has been in use for religious, cultural and educational purpose from ancient times. These manuscripts based on Buddhist Philosophy are also important for the authentic knowledge of our cultural and religious diversity.

From the past , the National archives has been publishing the catalogue of the documents which are in its collection. In this background the present catalogue of Tibetan manuscript covers a wide range of subject matter such as Tripitak, tantra, theology, traditional medicine and healing, traditional law and custom, grammar and lexicography, history and chronology, astrology, learned and literary, rituals etc.

The catalogue consists of approximately 3500 Tibetan manuscripts. The first and the second part of the catalogue, which have already been published cosisted of 1425 documents. Here again in the third part, 690 documents have been alphabetically arranged with the name of the documents written in Tibetan and roman scripts, microfilm reel number, and other information in English to make it easier for people understanding both the language and script.

In this series of catalogue, although briefly discussed about the subject matter of the documents, it is expected to act as a guideline for the researchers. This catalogue gives basic information about Tibetan documents which can be helpful for the researchers to study the documents.

I would like to thank Mr. Jagannath Upadhyaya, Research Officer for providing appreciable help in editing and Mr. Punya Prasad Parajuli for Preparing the catalogue and for completion of the work. I would also like to thank my helpful colleagues of National Archives who have been involved in the completion of this work. In spite of careful observation there might have crept in some errors and alterations in the presentation of subject matter. We would be grateful if the readers suggest and comment on any of our mistakes that we might have made in completion of this catalogue.
